

Postdoctoral Researcher in the Center for Cyber Security Lab New York University, United States

New York University: Computer Science & Engineering

Description

The Computer Science and Engineering Department at NYU Tandon School of Engineering is seeking to hire a Post Doctoral Researcher/Post Doctoral Associate to join an exciting grant-funded project to Tandon School of Engineering at New York University (NYU) is one of the top private universities in the United States, and the Tandon School of Engineering, located in Brooklyn, has the distinct history of having been known previously as Brooklyn Poly and the NYU Polytechnic School of Engineering.

Tandon faculty and students are at the forefront of the high-tech start-up culture in New York City and have access to NYU's Global Network University. The NYU Tandon School of Engineering is deeply committed to excellence in teaching and learning. Tandon fosters student and faculty innovation and entrepreneurship that make a difference in the world.

This project involves a collaboration with Prof. Damon McCoy. Candidates will perform work in the Center for Cyber Security (CCS) a multidisciplinary environment.

Qualifications

The successful candidate will be driven, creative and team-oriented with a passion for computer science. We are seeking individuals with a strong background in computer science, cybersecurity, and/or related field. We welcome applicants from recent PhDs and individuals seeking additional postdoctoral training. Eligible candidates will be required to present eligibility to work in the United States.

Application Instructions

Applicants should submit a cover letter, a current CV and a list of three references with complete contact information. All application materials should be submitted electronically at apply.interfolio.com/50778

Review of applications will begin as soon as possible and will continue until the position is filled.

In your application, please refer to Polytechnicpositions.com