DESCRIPTION

The Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering at the University of California, Santa Barbara invites applications for a pool of qualified temporary lecturers to teach undergraduate or graduate ECE courses. Screening of applicants is ongoing and will continue as needed. The number of positions varies from quarter to quarter, depending on the needs of the department and the availability of funding. Terms and conditions of employment are subject to UC policy and any appropriate collective bargaining agreement. Salary is based on UC's salary scales and depends upon qualifications.

The minimum requirement for a qualified applicant is a Masters in Electrical and Computer Engineering, Computer Engineering, or related field, and at least one year of teaching experience. Preferred qualifications are a Ph.D. and one year of teaching experience in the same areas, or related field. Experience in directing student projects is desirable. The department is especially interested in candidates who can contribute to the diversity and excellence of the academic community through research, teaching and service as appropriate to the position.

To apply, please go to the following link: recruit.ap.ucsb.edu/apply/JPF01419
Completed applications will consist of a cover letter, curriculum vitae, teaching statement (2-page limit) and names and contact information of three references; applicants may also choose to submit teaching evaluations and/or an optional Statement of Contributions to Diversity.

The first review date is January 7, 2019. The posting will remain open until October 31, 2019 to accommodate department needs. If you would like to continue to be considered after that time, and the pooled position is advertised again, you will need to submit a new application.

Please note: The use of a lecturer pool does not guarantee that an open position exists at the time you are applying. See the review date specified in UC Recruit to learn whether the department is currently reviewing applications for an upcoming opening. If there is no future review date specified, your application may not be considered at this time.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer and all qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, disability status, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.
